Updates

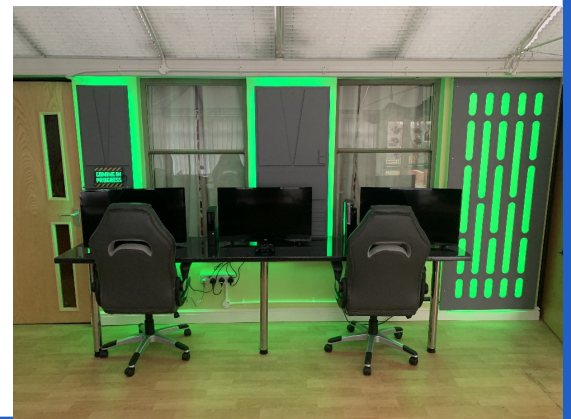

HAPPY NEW YEAR!!! Welcome back to Saxon Hill's weekly newsletter.

We have had a lovely start to the new year, it was so heart-warming to see the children returning so happily on Wednesday, full of stories and news from their break.

Work is already in full flow as pupils are catching up on their phonics work, using their communication aids well and some even visited a farm and manufactured and packaged sausages ready for sale. In Sleep Over Club we have created a new 'Game Station' furnished with gaming chairs, Play station, Wii and X-Box, so children can play alongside their friends in the evenings when in residence.

In case you missed it, here is my Covid update letter from earlier in the week, outlining the changes; the only additional change announced since then, is that from Tuesday 11th Jan, there will, temporarily, no longer be a need to confirm a positive LFT with a PCR test in order to isolate.

We are looking forward to happy and healthy 2022 and are keen to help the children to make lots of progress. All the best from Your Leadership Team
